

Climate Change, Global Security, and the Common Good

Thursday, Nov. 13
MOUNT ST. JOSEPH UNIVERSITY

Presented by the Environmental Action Committee of Mount St. Joseph University

CO-SPONSORS

Catholic Social Action Office, Archdiocese of Cincinnati (evening program)

The Institute for Spirituality and Social Justice at Xavier University

The Center for Ethical Leadership
of Mount St. Joseph University

Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati, Office of Peace, Justice, and Care for Creation

FEATURING

David W. Titley, Rear Admiral USN (ret.)
Director, Center for Solutions to Weather and Climate Risk, Penn State University

AND

Dan Misleh
Executive Director,
Catholic Climate Covenant

The Navy is preparing... how about you?

Join us as we consider the challenges and plan our responses to climate change.

12:15 pm Panel discussion with David Titley, Marge Kloos, SC, (Associate Professor, Religious and Pastoral Studies at MSJU) and Dan Misleh. Panelists will explore the topic in light of the Sisters of Charity charism and what we can do as faithful citizens.

7:00 pm Panel discussion with David Titley, Elizabeth Groppe (Associate Professor of Theology at XU), Dan Misleh, and Leanne Jablonski, FMI, PhD (Director, Sustainability, Energy and the Environment (SEE) Initiative at the University of Dayton). Panelists will explore the topic in light of Catholic theology of creation care and what we can do as faithful citizens.

Both events are in the University Theatre; parking is available in the west parking lot. This event is free and open to the public. For further information contact William Lonneman, chair, Environmental Action Committee at william.lonneman@msj.edu.

